

HERE'S the SCOOP

October 23-27

Look What We're Learning

Reading: This week we are wrapping up our reading unit on sequencing. Students will apply what they have learned by writing a paragraph in class explaining how to make/do something. They will complete a graphic organizer and use the organizer to write their paragraph.

Math: We continue to practice multiplication daily. The students have a good understanding of how to multiply a number by a one digit number, but if they do not have their multiplication facts memorized yet, it is causing them some trouble. Please continue to practice basic multiplication facts at home or in the car.

Grammar & Writing: The students have finished researching their Native American tribe and will begin to write their multi-paragraph essay this week.

Vocabulary: Our vocabulary this week will review academic vocabulary the students have been introduced to in the past few weeks. The words and definitions are on the back of the newsletter.
